ABOUT

Short bio for listings and flyers

Lautaro Volcan is the DJ project of Lautaro Ferrandi, an Argentine-Spanish DJ based in Barcelona. His sets move through tech house, house, techno and nu disco, with ambient passages that give the room space to breathe.

In his words

I'm drawn to tech house, house, techno, nu disco and ambient, and I focus on building atmospheres that connect with the room. I pick tracks for their groove, their vocals and their rhythmic patterns, and dig into what makes each one work to build sets people share together.

I like sets that move across styles. I've played clubs and events in different countries, reading each crowd and each venue as it comes.

Ambient is where the introspective side comes in: it lets me fold quieter, emotional passages into a mix without losing the floor.
